Course Description

The G-235 Emergency Planning course is a nationally recognized 16-hour program designed to equip emergency management and public safety personnel with the knowledge and skills necessary to develop effective, comprehensive Emergency Operations Plans (EOPs). The course follows FEMA's Comprehensive Preparedness Guide (CPG 101) and the all-hazards planning process, integrating NIMS principles and hazard analysis methodologies. Participants will learn how to evaluate hazards using THIRA, coordinate multi-agency planning efforts, and implement planning models to improve both deliberate and crisis action planning.

Participants are encouraged to bring a laptop capable of reading a USB flash drive and a copy of their jurisdiction's Emergency Operations Plan (EOP). Course materials will be provided electronically.

Student Criteria

This course is open to all Emergency Management, Rescue, Fire, Emergency Medical, and Law Enforcement personnel or other organization having responsibility for incident management. Pre-requisites include IS-235.c and IS-800. Copies of these four course completion certificates must be provided before the class to the POC listed below.
